D. Text Production

1. You have the possibility to go on a TV show.

Last week my mom came home and told me that our local TV station is hosting a talent show for young people and since I have an extraordinary talent, she had registered me as a contestant. My talent is, that I am a mental calculator – among other things, I can do addition of ten-digit numbers, multiplication of two eight-digit numbers, calculation of square roots, and calculation of weekdays for given dates, all in my head. I am sure that there is going to be a great number of other people with cool talents, so I am rather excited and nervous to become part of the show.

2. Write a text about the picture.

In the picture you can see four people. They took their bicycles, leant them against a wooden fence and climbed onto them to look over the fence. There must be something really interesting going on for them to be so curious. I imagine there is some sort of playing field behind, maybe a rugby pitch, and they are watching a game. And then their team wins and they start cheering, but since the stand of the bikes is rather insecure, one of them starts to slide and the man on top of it falls off. Fortunately nothing bad happens, just a few scratches, and they all drive off laughing and cheering.
